

PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

May 26, 2010 -- Arlington VA

Joe Peck & Tom Nichols For Open Circle Theatre

On July 23 at 8 p.m. Joe Peck and Tom Nichols will appear at Potter's House in Adams Morgan as part of the Sounds of Hope performance series. Donations given at admission will benefit Open Circle Theatre, the DC area's critically acclaimed non-profit theatre company that showcases professional artists with disabilities (on and off stage) in an integrated setting.

Beloved singer/songwriter Tom Nichols will share his solid alternative and pop tunes with an inspirational edge. A McLean, VA native, Tom has been performing at local and national venues for years - including stints at The Kennedy Center, Carnegie Hall and Boston Symphony Hall. Tom is currently recording his new album due out this summer.

Joe Peck is a singer and actor who has been seen on area stages, including Studio Theatre, Ford's Theatre, The Kennedy Center, Olney Theatre, Signature Theatre, and the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. In addition to his stage work, Joe has been performing as a vocalist in his own solo shows for several years at venues throughout the DC/Baltimore region. Now stretching his creative muscles as a singer/songwriter, Joe will be picking up the guitar and sharing his eclectic mix of original music best described as alternative infused with blues, folk, country and pop.

Dinner service begins at 7 p.m. at Sounds of Hope, so come out for good food and stay for great music and fun. Suggested donation is $15 (or more) at the door.

Information is available online at www.pottershousedc.org or by calling 202-232-5483.

More about Open Circle Theatre and Artistic Director Susie Richard can be found online at www.opencircletheatre.org.
